

Spelling The "oi" grapheme is mainly used in the middle of words.

oil	coin
foil	point
soil	tinfoil
join	poison

Task 1 Drama through Storytelling

I am sure you know the story of the Three Little Pigs. Please find a version from your storybooks at home or on "You Tube" and read it again. Now I want you to think about the story again and about acting it out while you re -tell it. Think about it in sections...

1st little pig /getting straw/building house of straw,
2nd little pig /getting sticks /building house of sticks
3rd little pig /getting bricks /building house of bricks

Then the wolf huffing and puffing at each house
Straw/ sticks/brick house and what happens next.

Remember all the repeated phrases "I'll huff and I'll puff" and "no, no, not by the hair of my chinny, chin,chin". You could make masks or props and don't forget different voices.

Make up a whole story show for your family. They will love it!

Task 2 Descriptive writing

Draw a big picture of the Big, Bad Wolf. Label your picture with some powerful adjectives to describe him.

Write 5 full sentences about the Big, Bad Wolf what he looks like and what he did.
(Some of you will like to write more)

Task 3 and 4 Write the story

Think about the story of the 3 little pigs and write the story. What did the pigs do? What did the wolf try to do?

Please take 2 days over this and write your story very nicely. When you have finished you can draw some pictures. Enjoy this!

Task 5 A plan of the brick house

The wolf could not blow down the 3rd little pig's brick house. Draw a picture of it and then draw an inside plan. Label your plan. Where would the little pig sleep? Where would he have his dinner? Draw in the details.

Where is the fireplace? Does he have any special places or things inside his house.

Can you make a house for the pigs out of a box? Can you make the furniture to go inside the house? Use junk modelling skills with your pens, scissors and tape. How will you make his bed? Have fun! Super hard work this week Tigers and Crocodiles!

(Top tip: next week we are having a tiger week and we will be reading 'The Tiger who came to tea')